

Neuropsychological Testing at Columbia Doctors

Parent calls intake coordinator at 212-305-6001, option 2 then option 4, to discuss interest in neuropsychological testing

Intake coordinator will follow-up with parent within 24-48 hours of initial call to briefly discuss their specific needs.
If appropriate, intake coordinator will schedule an initial phone screening with parent. This is a 15-20-minute phone conversation to obtain more in-depth information, history and clinical details regarding reason for testing

Once screening is completed, intake coordinator will send to neuropsychologist team for their review.

If clinically appropriate, intake coordinator will contact the parent (within 5 business days) to schedule an evaluation date.
If not appropriate, alternate recommendations may be provided
Current average wait time for testing is 3-6 months.