

Tutoring and Test Prep Options

This list comprises just a sampling of the many organizations providing students with academic tutoring, test preparation, and other related services. In addition to this list, if you have friends who have had a good experience with a particular company, that can often be a good place to start your exploration.

The list of resources in this communication is provided for general informational purposes only. Columbia does not recommend or endorse any specific program, product, provider or organization listed, nor does the University screen any services or caregivers that may be available through these resources. To ensure your child's development and safety, you should screen any child care centers, caregivers, facilities and other resources for your children thoroughly and determine whether they are appropriate for you and your family.

Tutoring Companies:

- Bright Horizons' Academic Support:
 - Varsity Tutors
 - Revolution Prep
 - Marco Polo
- Central Park Tutors
- Evolved Education Company
- GoPeer Online Tutoring
- Maia Education Company
- Private Prep
- Thinking Caps Group

Low Cost/No cost Options

- The New York Public Library
- The United Federation of Teachers \(UFT\)
- Khan Academy

The list of resources in this communication is provided for general informational purposes only. Columbia does not recommend or endorse any specific program, product, provider or organization listed, nor does the University screen any services or caregivers that may be available through these resources. To ensure your child's development and safety, you should screen any child care centers, caregivers, facilities and other resources for your children thoroughly and determine whether they are appropriate for you and your family.

The Office of Work/Life
School and Child Care Search Service
www.worklife.columbia.edu
worklife@columbia.edu